3. ¿WHAT IS A COOKIE?

A Cookie is a file that is downloaded to your computer when you access certain web pages. Cookies allow a web page to store and retrieve information about your browsing habits or those of your device and depending on the information they contain and how you use your device, they can be used to recognize you.

Cookies play a fundamental role in the functioning of the Internet, as they provide technical solutions that allow users to explore different websites. It is important to note that Cookies do not cause any harm to the computer or device on which they are installed. Additionally, they are used to identify and resolve possible malfunctions on a website. They also have applications in advertising and analysis, among other uses.

4. ¿WHAT TYPE OF COOKIES DO WE USE ON OUR WEBSITE?

From TEMEBZA we use both own Cookies generated directly by our web domain, and third-party Cookies generated from other websites outside TEMBEZA, belonging to third-party companies, and all this for the specific purposes set out below:

(i) Technical Cookies

Technical Cookies are necessary to enable navigation and activate the functionalities of our Website. For example, these Cookies perform vital functions such as controlling traffic and data communication, identifying the User's session, allowing access to restricted areas, ensuring the security of the service against fraud, among others. We do not require your consent to install these Cookies on your device. However, please note that if you disable or block all Cookies in your browser, your browsing experience may not be optimal, and some services may not function correctly.

(ii) Personalization cookies

Personalization Cookies allow us to save information to provide you with a service with special features that can enhance your experience compared to other users. For example, these Cookies can remember how many results you want to see in a search or adjust the appearance and content of the service based on the browser you are using or the region from which you access the service. If you select these personalized features, the Cookies will be considered a service that you have specifically requested, therefore, they will be used exclusively for the selected purpose without the need to request your express consent.

(iii) Analytical Cookies

Analytics cookies collect information about your visit to our Website to obtain statistics and reports that allow us to improve our performance and gather relevant information without personally identifying you, maintaining the information aggregated and anonymous. For example, these Cookies can detect the pages you visit most frequently, whether you encounter errors on pages, which sections of the page you access, or which buttons you click on, among others. These Cookies will only be installed on your device if you expressly accept their use, or if the law permits their installation by exception.

In this regard, all Cookies used by the Website will be stored on your device for the necessary time to fulfill the purpose for which they were installed, and for a maximum of 2 years, unless you choose to delete them through your browser settings, as indicated in the following section of this Cookies Policy.

Some of the personal data collected through the use of third-party cookies may be transferred to other countries. In these cases, we ensure that necessary measures are taken to safeguard the privacy, integrity, and availability of such data. If you want more information about the international transfers made by each external provider, you can consult their privacy policies in the relevant section mentioned above.
